

Fay Campbell

ASSOCIATE PARTNER

Accounting & Business Advisory

Fay has more than 40 years of accounting experience. She began her career in regional Victoria where she worked primarily with primary producers and small businesses before working as an accountant in London.

On her return to Australia, she embarked on a 28-year career with Melbourne firm Mann Judd beginning as a Senior Accountant and then becoming the Manager of Taxation Services. Over the years she has acquired a loyal client base, including primary producers, medical practitioners and high-net-worth individuals.

Fay joined BG Private in 2002 and continued working with her long-standing clients.

Fay has developed extremely close bonds with her clients and is seen as more than just an advisor on financial matters. This is evidenced by the fact that they call on her even in the most difficult personal situations. In turn, she goes above and beyond for each client.

Fay has deep experience in estate taxation, and clients can feel comfortable that their estate planning wishes are taken care of. With her decades of experience, she is able to help solve even the most complex family situations and taxation matters.

As an Associate Partner at BG Private, Fay is one of the driving forces behind the firm's approachable and personal style of client service.

In her personal time, Fay loves gardening and craft, and following the Saints.
